

Itai Sneh [isneh@jjay.cuny.edu] is associate professor in the Department of History at John Jay College of Criminal Justice - City University of New York (CUNY). He holds a law degree and an MA in Eastern European Jewish history from McGill University, Montreal, Canada, and a BA in Jewish history (with minors in international relations, Biblical studies, and Yiddish language and culture) from Hebrew University, Jerusalem, Israel. He obtained his doctorate from Columbia University, NY. His research interests, presentations, and publications include books, articles, and lectures on the history of human rights, American presidential, diplomatic, legal, and political history, international law, terrorism, genocide, Israel, and the Middle East. Prof. Sneh serves as a peer reviewer on the Interdisciplinary Journal of Human Rights Law, the Journal of American History, and Peace and Change. He taught at various academic institutions, including Columbia University, McGill University, Hunter College, Yeshiva University, Pace University, Rutgers (Newark) University, and Touro College. Multiple conference presentations include the London School of Economics, and the University of Sussex in England; the International Studies Association; the American Historical Association; and the Society of Historians of American Foreign Relations (SHAFR).